APRIO

Aprio is an extendable rectangular garden table, with an epoxy powder coated aluminum frame and compact laminate top. Thanks to the construction materials and the telescopic extending frame, integrated with the legs, the table lends itself perfectly to both indoor and outdoor use. The patented extension system allows the structure to slide, keeping the legs always at the ends of the table. A quick coupling system allows easy extension by inserting one or two of the leaves that are hidden within the frame itself.
